

Delock Express Card > HDMI Capture Card

Description

The Delock Capture card can be used for transferring a video signal from a HDMI device with HDMI-out like e.g. camcorder or DVD player to your notebook. Insert the Express Card into the slot of your notebook and connect it to your HDMI-out female port of the device, by using the included HDMI cable. The included Stream Catcher program can be used for recording your movies in HD-quality. The HDCP copy protection will remain.
